

(Susan Bradbury) full copy of the song available if anybody would like one, E me.
 John Thomas spends most of his time in Prestatyn where he is doing up a cottage, I saw him last year in Rhyl when I attended a male voice choir concert and John was a member of the choir. As far as I am aware Mr Prescott is still going and has a pig farm near Marple, Mr Rutter is still about although he suffered a stroke, there must be others? Mrs Fell? Mrs Bailey?, Mrs Derbyshire? perhaps somebody out there knows?.

Mrs Knights

Hi Pat I have remembered that Mrs Knights taught housecraft in the room next to the house and did super Christmas Cake decorations. Funny how all these long lost things come back again!

Mrs Knights

Hi girls
 Remember Mrs Knight stalking for petticoats that made the skirts stick out too.... much. I had mine removed in french in front of all the class! After all those hours I spent with the sugar and water mixture to make them stiff...
 And Mini Mitchell and his wicked breathing lessons to improve our singing...?

Julia Drinkwater's friends

I was in the same class as Julia and have a school photo taken in the second or third year, also regarding the message about Miss Foote and Miss Berry. Miss Foote was my God Mother and after leaving Bradbury went to teach at Blessed Thomas shool in Altrincham

Music Teacher

I remember a Miss Bailey she taught music. I suppose it could have been Mrs. We used to put drawing pins on the piano keys before assembly so the sound would be off key. We also made up a ditty about her it seems so cruel know. It went like this;
 Ma Bailey is a bunion she's got a face like a pickled onion, a nose like a squashed tomato and feet like flat fish. (This song was made up by a boy called Norman Pearson). I did'nt much like music and was astonished when one year I came 1st in an exam. I still have my reports does anyone else?
 Pat
